EVE ADLER
Live hand-in-hand and together we'll stand on the threshold of a dream.

—Moody Blues

ROBERT PARSON ALDEN
Nothing is good or bad, but thinking makes it so.

—Shakespeare

DAVID ALEXANDER

RICHARD ALLEN
How can you be two places at once when you're not anywhere at all.

—Firesign Theatre

JENNIFER ANDREWS
Black people have to unite and try to conquer all, instead of dividing and trying to conquer each other.

ANNE CAROL ARONSON
Actions speak louder than words.

MARTIN ARRICK
I would say that if there is no love, nothing is possible. Man absolutely cannot live by himself.

—Erich Fromm

WINSTON ASHLEY

BARBARA BACKMAN
Life is a tragedy to those who feel and a comedy to those who think.

—La Bryere

ALLEN BAHN

MARIA BALLER

BETHANY ANN BARNETT
I never let my studies interfere with my education.

MADELINE BARNEY

PAUL BARRETT

JANICE BASSIL
People think a loner is lonely—but it's really not wanting to put all your marbles in one pocket.

EDWARD BAUER

MARGARET JEAN BAUER
I will never forget the first day at Brookline High when I walked in the boy's bathroom.

MARY BAUMEISTER
Manic Depression is touchin' my soul.
—Jimi Hendrix

WARREN BEACH
Having the determination and a goal, We will make it.

SHERYL BEDRICK
Friendship is a little word, it's people who make it big.

JOAN LEE BELBEN
Seasons change and so do I . . .
No time left for you,
On my way to better things.

DEBORAH BELKIN

GORDON T. BELLO

THOMASINA BENSON
To my Black Brothers and Sisters: Unity and Revolution are the answer.

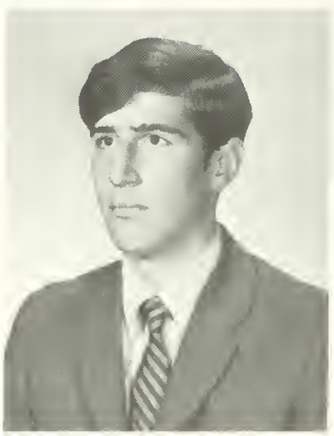
CLAIRE RUTH BERMAN
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I, I took the one less travelled by, and that has made all the difference.

KAREN JAYNE BERMAN
To be any more than all I am would be a lie. I'm so full of love I could burst apart and start to cry.

SHELLEY LYNN BERNARD
Slogans are both exciting and comforting, but they are also powerful opiates for the conscience. . . .

RAYMOND P.
BLANCHFIELD
Once you get it, hang on to it.

MARTIN ALAN
BLOOMFIELD
I'll never forget all those crazy whist games. "The process of living is the process of reacting to stress."



LARRY THOMAS
BORNSTEIN
Not an education but character is man's greatest need and man's greatest safeguard.

STEVEN H. BORNSTEIN

SHARON BRADLEY
Games people play. Every night and every day. Never meaning what they say, never saying what they mean.

DIANE M. BRASSIL

BROOKLINE HIGH SCHOOL

Data Processing Department

To All Seniors: PROCEDURE FOR GRADUATION

1. After 8:15 a.m. on May 25, 1971, 19 of these cards should be picked up in room 124.

2. Before 9:55 these 19 cards should be given to your homeroom teacher.

3. By 10:15, homeroom teachers will return them to you and you must bring the cards back to the house office.

4. House office should at this point pull out cards of students who have not paid for caps and gowns or have overdue library books.

5. By 10:35 (or sooner, if possible) your house office should deliver the cards to the data processing center, room 124.

6. Whoever brings the absence cards to room 124 should wait for the green proof list and return it to the house office.

7. This list (17 copies) contains the following additional information:
   a. the student number
   b. the student name
   c. the days this student has been absent to date this year.
   d. the student telephone number
   e. the number of awols accumulated in four years
   f. freshman photograph

8. By 11:00 a.m. your housemaster sends back a corrected proof list, keeping a copy for his records.

9. By 11:20 your housemaster should be sent to Mrs. Goldberg in room 203.

10. By 1:00 p.m. your housemaster will be available in room 124 to be picked up by interested teachers and students.

11. By 1:30 the final list of graduating seniors will be available in your house office.

PLEASE DO NOT BEND, STAPLE, FOLD, OR OTHERWISE MUTILATE THESE SENIORS.
REMEMBER: THEY ARE FINALLY GRADUATING!

Sungod
The waves create a pattern in my mind
They become soft and dim
The grains of sand fall idly through my fingers
They become undistinguishable from one another
I can feel the sun pulsating beating out its rhythm of life
For I have wished the sun to be mine
And now it is in my hand burning and powerful
The world is at my mercy
And I must decide for them Shall they continue their destructive existence?
    or shall I allow them to vanish
No one shall ever remember his sins or the pain he has caused.
I hold fate in my hands Solemnly, I bend down and place the sun in the tide, and watch it sizzle and vanish
Smiling, I turn my head toward the heavens
    There is nothing
    Only bleak and black infinity
I ascend to the heavens which at last know eternal night

even the hills are grey its the 17th winter and mothernature has rheumatism

i can hear her expansive joints creaking
as she bobs like apples in her earthrocker when i ask her to comeout&play

its the 17th winter and even tho i want to remain a droolingkid
the years seem to be wiped away along with my self-consciousspittle on my shirtsleeve
its the 17th winter and i can see the wrinkles its the 17th winter and the bouncingworld that was my tutor in snowgames&hundredyard mischief is ½dead sucking a middleagethermometer and olemuthanature wont even skate to the mailbox across once gay ice for fear of breaking a tibia or a brittle contactlens
but she just sits decaying&knits never fitting woolandscapes out of oilstainedyarn knitting with needles

one rose one magnificent rose of brilliant crimson hue caught my eye
as I strolled past the screaming mothers and crying babies past the shuffling grandmother with the dirty gray shawl past the rotting benches with the chipped green paint but the crimson rose with drops of fresh rain settled on the petals stood out from the rest

howard fisher

I walk towards the golden pile
Gleaming against night's velvet.
Glowing yellow glistens, scattering light.
But as I draw near, the pile shrinks,
Contracts, repulsed by my approach,
And my fingers touch only the air.
One step more, and the treasure is lost,
And I am left standing Bathed yellow
        In the reflection of a streetlamp.
